CFLOAA ANNUAL GOLF TOURNAMENT AUGUST 3, 2018

Proceeds to Prostate Canada & Christie Lake Kids

This year's CFLOAA Annual Golf Tournament once again took place out at the Hylands Golf & Country Club, this year on Friday August 3. We had another excellent turnout of our alumni along with family and friends for our morning round of golf followed by the BBQ lunch. We are especially appreciative of those alumni who travelled from out of town to join us such as Bill Hatanaka, Brian Hedges and Terry Wellesley.

Congratulations to Pat Stoqua, Bruce Walker, Mark Magee and Greg Clarke who won the best ball tournament with a solid score of 14 under par four strokes ahead of four other foursomes who tied for second place.

The tournament would not be possible without the hard work of our CFLOAA members who volunteer their time leading up to the event as well as on tournament day to make everything run so smoothly. My personal thanks to Gary Page, Danielle Ryza, Dan Dever, Jim Cain, Dick Dinelle, Gord Bunke and Bob Pekarchuk for their tireless efforts as well as all those who donated prizes.

The CFL Ottawa Alumni Association along with the Ottawa REDBLACKS organized an absolutely incredible weekend celebrating the 1968 and 1969 Grey Cup winning Ottawa Rough Rider teams. The dinner Friday night held in The Otto's Club area of the south side stands at TD Place was the perfect kickoff to what had to be a once in a lifetime experience for the 68 & 69 team members and their families. The following day a social gathering at the Prescott to raise a glass in honour of those who have passed away was a more relaxing setting for the sharing of old stories and intermingling with family members and a few fans who joined in for the celebration. A highlight at the Prescott was an edited video, provided by Bill Van Burkleo, of the 1969 Rough Rider Rookie party. Later that evening the players were introduced in TD Place Arena to a large crowd of Ottawa football fans followed by an autograph session that went well into the first quarter of the REDBLACKS Alouettes game.

At halftime, 22 of the 24 players that are still alive and 6 family members representing those players who have passed away plus the late Frank Clair's daughter Robin and Arthur and Ken Loeb, the sons of the late Owner David Loeb, were introduced to the sold-out REDBLACKS game crowd. After the Grey Cup was escorted onto the field by the RCMP, the members of the 1969 team were presented with their 1969 Grey Cup Champion rings by Arthur and Ken. This was the perfect culmination to a wonderful weekend of new memories for the members and their families of the 1968 & 1969 Grey Cup winning Rough Rider teams. To top off the weekend the Redblacks scored very late in an exciting finish to beat the Als and Johnny Football 24-17!

A special thank you to all those on the organizing committee Jim Cain, Russ Jackson, Dan Dever, Doug Specht, Bob McKeown, Randy Burgess and OSEG...AMAZING JOB! We would also like to thank Donn Smith for all the fantastic photos of our events!

DON'T CHANGE MUCH

Football, pizza and weight loss together at last!

Think satisfying your cravings derails healthy eating? Think again!

It's the kind of question Captain Obvious would ask: Why are there so many commercials for pizza during CFL broadcasts?

The obvious answer: Because pizza goes so well with watching the big game on TV!

Now, here's something that isn't quite as obvious: A few cheesy slices can help you lose weight.

Go ahead: Treat yourself

Believe it or not, research suggests that treating yourself once in a while — say, when the big game is on — helps you stick to a healthy eating plan. Controlling cravings isn't easy, after all, and if you never satisfy those cravings it can be tempting to bail out completely. You're only human, right?

But if game day also happens to be pizza day, you'll know a well-earned reward is just around the corner — and that will make rest of the week that much easier.

So when those pizza commercials follow a touchdown or timeout, there's no need to change the channel or cover your eyes like you're watching Friday the 13th. Simply smile, reach for a slice, and reward yourself for staying strong!

More pizza pointers

Reaching for a homemade slice is a win-win-win: It tastes better than cardboard frozen pizza, is usually healthier than ordering in, and will save you money to boot. Here's something else — let's call it a fourth win — that will make weight loss even easier: A tasty, easy and healthy recipe for grilled barbecue chicken pizza you can prepare before the big game or at halftime. Football, pizza, barbecues...who could ask for anything more?

How Family Fun Leads to Healthier Kids!

Support International Youth Day by getting in on playtime with the brood

The question comes up every Father's Day: "Dad, when is Kid Day?"

The reply? That's easy: "Every day is Kid Day!"

Technically, however, that response isn't accurate. There really IS a Kid Day! Since 1999, the United Nations has designated Aug. 12 as International Youth Day. But that's not the point, is it? The point is that children play all day while the grown-ups work hard to pay the bills!

Case closed? Not quite. Active play time, it turns out, is vitally important to the health and wellbeing of our children. According to the Canadian Paediatric Society, physical inactivity and obesity are growing problems in Canada, with as many as 26 per cent of children and youth being overweight and obese. These kids face a higher risk of chronic disease, and may not grow up to be as healthy as they could be.

International Youth Day is also sounding the alarm, with this year's theme being "Safe Spaces for Youth." Leisure activities, the UN points out, are "essential to the psychological, cognitive (this is stuff like: construction of thought processes, problem solving and decision making) and physical development of young people."

Every dad wants the best for his children, and there's plenty dads can do to promote active play.

Structured vs. unstructured play

In general there are two types of play: Structured, which helps kids learn fundamental movement skills through adult instruction; and unstructured, which is spontaneously directed by children themselves. Balancing both types is important, so what's a dad to do?

Get in on the structured-play action!

Signing the kids up for soccer camps, gymnastics classes and other types of structured play will do the trick, but the costs can add up in a hurry. So why not take the lead yourself? From pick-up road hockey and lake swimming to family hikes and bike rides, there are plenty of free ways to get active with the brood. It'll do them — and you — some good!

Pick your spots for unstructured play

Many of the best places for structured play — parks, sandy beaches and nature trails — are also ideal for letting the kids do their thing without you. So sit back and relax as they clamber over rocks, climb trees and wear themselves out playing tag.

Great job dad, you've earned a break, after all, by helping to make yet another "Kid Day" active and healthy!
